Frankfort Festival
Largely Attended

The fall festival at Frankfort last week-end proved to be a happy successful affair, even though the weather man handed out rain and chilly weather part of the time.

The affair open Thursday night with a fair crowd, but Friday evening was not quite so chilly and a good attendance was noted. Saturday morning the rain really came down and continued most of the day, so the parade scheduled for the afternoon was called off as well as the entire affair. It was postponed to Sunday.

The weather was on good behavior that day, the sun shining, which helped to start the day off well.

The parade in the afternoon was good to see, being about a mile long.

At time of going to press we were not able to learn who received prizes in the kiddie section of the parade. It was excellent.

Herbert Lambrecht, chairman of the festival committee, speaking for the entire committee, wishes to thank every person and organization in Frankfort for their untiring work, especially the Woman's club who handled the food booth in an excellent way.

Scott Lucas To Be
In Joliet Oct. 16

Senator Scott W. Lucas will headline a list of speakers at the Democratic rally to be held in the American Legion hall in Joliet Monday evening, October 16 at 7:30 o'clock.

District and county candidates will also be present and speak a few words.

WHY?

Being rather new in Mokena, I may not have the right to ask, but I have a question. Why is the old cemetery on Wolf road in such despicable condition? Usually a cemetery is one of the most beautiful places in town; something to be proud of and with good reason too! But in Mokena the cemetery is the worse eyesore. To a visitor an untidy and rundown cemetery is an indication that everything in Mokena is handled in the same slipshod way. This I know is not true.

Mokena has advanced and progressed greatly, but has it progressed so fast that it does not have time to keep up its old cemetery? If this is true then we had all better slow down and go back to do the important things we obviously overlooked. If not only to beautify the town, then surely out of respect this cemetery must be put back to order.

That is my question, why is the old cemetery in the sad condition that it is? Who can answer it?

NEW RESIDENT

An Editorial

Last week we received a letter from Claradehl Upham, Cook county home adviser, requesting us to run an article entitled, "Modern Betsy Rosses."

After reading the article which mentioned that many local women's organizations, including the Cook county home bureau, have banded together to sew flags to present to officials of towns, school principals etc., we learn these flags are not the good old flag of the United States, but the flag of the United Nations. They are to be displayed all over the United States October 24. The article went on to explain that patterns and directions for making the UN flag could be obtained at the office of the Committee for Boys and Girls club work, 59 East Van Buren street, Chicago. Kits with full directions for making the flag cost 50 cents.

It seems, according to the article, that October 24 is the anniversary of the United Nations Charter which expressed the mandate of the peoples of the world that THERE SHALL BE PEACE. The last sentence stated: "Fly it on United Nations Day—and Every Other day of the year too."

Our first impression was one of surprise, and righteous indignation. I refused to run the article. Was it a clever trick to out-place our Stars and Stripes? The same Stars and Stripes which our brave men of Revolutionary war, fought and died for; stamped thru the snows of severe winters to make this a free country; for which George Washington, a wealthy man, gave not by taxation, but without being asked, his wealth; yes, many others like him did the same; this same flag, which is now being sought to be put into second place, carried through our Civil war also. Is it possible that our women members of organizations have forgotten this and also our Spanish-American war? And what of so recent. Two Jims, a picture where seven brave boys, American boys, risked their lives to plant the Stars and Stripes on that rugged land elevation will go down in history. Has that been forgotten?

Do we hear you say, this editor is prejudiced? Yes, proudly do we accept that reproach when it concerns our flag which is the symbol that has made this country the wonderful one that it is, all its faults considered. The Cook County Home Bureau, so far is the only organization that we have heard of, which is sponsoring the flying of the UN flag.

And the UN flag represents an organization expressing the mandates of the peoples of the world that "There Shall Be Peace." But we are fighting, with the United States footing the bill and giving a large amount of the manpower. We are waiting to see if other countries, excluding Russia and her satellite countries, are or will at this time fly the UN flag. When we fly the UN flag, remember we are, in a way, agreeing with Russia, for that country is a member of the United Nations.

Finally, upon investigating, we found that according to "Who's Who in America" Milburn Lincoln Wilson served as a consultant on large scale wheat farming U. S. S. R. in 1929. He returned to this country and worked under Henry Wallace, alongside Alger Hiss, the convicted perjurer-spy, and Lee Pressman, confessed former Communist, in the agricultural adjustment administration in 1933. Wilson, an official now of the agricultural department, seems to be the person who is seeking to have the UN flag fly over every American school and public building October 24.

We are indeed happy to learn of the stand patriotic organizations and others are taking against the flying of the UN flag on October 24 or ANY OTHER day.

BURGLARS AT MOKENA GARAGE

Blain Saxton of the Mokena Motor Sales was relieved of a license plate from one of his cars last week. An air hose was cut also.

A license plate can be easily traced and it is a rather serious offense. It is advised that the culprit return it right away.

Remember, sometimes the punishment can be more effective in a town with no police than one with protection.

Little Carol Van Donk, daughter of the John Van Donk's of Hillside Road, Lincoln Estates, appeared on a television program over WGN-TV last Wednesday evening. The occasion was an exhibition held at Congress and Balboa streets in Chicago during National Dog Week. Mr. Van Donk, who owns the Van Donk Kennels had Carol put their prize dog King through obedience tests, and the TV cameramen were so impressed that they took pictures of the sight and made a story out of it. General Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, will deliver the dedication address for the new $2,250,000 campus buildings and grounds of District 218 Community High school, Blue Island, Dr. H. L. Richards, superintendent, announced today.

The General will arrive in Blue Island on Monday afternoon, October 23, where the dedication program is scheduled to start at 2:00.

Eisenhower comes to this community to dedicate the five buildings and 27½ acres of the new campus, located at 127th and Sacramento. This new plant serves as the educational and recreational center of school district 218, covering 32 square miles, with a population of approximately 45,000. Included in the district are the communities of Alsip, Alsip Manor, Atwood Heights, Blue Island, Calumet Park, Chicago Ridge, Crestwood, McArthur, Palos Heights, Robbins, Worth and portions of Oak Lawn, and several smaller centers. The school enrollment this year is over 1,900.

Present plans are to have General Eisenhower speak from a platform before the football stadium, which will seat 6,000. If weather conditions do not permit this, he will speak in the new gymnasium auditorium, seating around 5,000. After the program the Board of Education and Dr. Richards hope to conduct Eisenhower on a special tour of the buildings and grounds, pointing out such features as the 32 thoroughly modern class rooms, the large lecture room, cafeteria, 2 study halls, band room, and central administrative suite of offices.

Plans for the dedication program began over a year ago, when the Board of Education and Dr. Richards determined to present the new school to their district in a way to draw the attention and approval of the entire nation. Citizens of this section will see a dream of over 20 years come true when Eisenhower speaks.

To secure him for the dedication was the hope of all, and that hope received considerable impetus when the letter of invitation to the General was sent by Kevin McCann, his assistant at Columbia University. McCann, formerly with the Messenger Press, in nearby Midlothian, has been a friend of the Community High for many years.

Heading the committee for the dedication of community high school and in general charge of all plans for the celebration is Henry Baumann, prominent Western avenue merchant and civic leader. Assisting him are: Arthur Heuser, Gordon Postweller, Clyde Blanke, Ted Borek, Bud Overton, Maurice Schultz, LeRoy Fledier, Miss Johanne Carlson, Walter Ward and Harold Velp.

Complete details of the two day dedication program will be released later.

On September 15, 1950 the Mokena Wayfarers club gave permission to the ladies of the members to form an auxiliary to the club which should be an asset in many ways.

On Oct. 27 the Wayfarers club will hold their first Halloween party in Vets hall. Final arrangements will be made for this party on October 20.

Refreshments will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

These Were Correct

We thought we had a sticker last week when we published the picture of a child with the caption, Who Am I? But it didn't take long to claim the money offered by this newspaper, for the first evening Janet Bauch called and said she was sure the picture was that of Frank J. Kohlhausen. And she was right and won the $1.00; the second person to guess the correct identity was Herbert Lambrecht and the third was Mrs. George Schroeder.

This picture was taken in 1873 when Mr. Kohlhausen was two years old.

There were many other guesses of numerous other persons.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Colored pictures were taken of the group around the tree and also of the couple cutting the silver decorated anniversary cake. Cards were played, after which a bountiful supper was served. The party, a complete surprise, was arranged and given by Mr. Francis' sister, Mrs. Michael Whelan, of Chicago.

Vote The Blue Ballot

Editorial Opinion of The Sun-Times
Chicago, Monday, August 21, 1950

Housewives will remember the big hullabaloo back in 1940 about taking the sales tax off food.

The price of food has more than doubled since then.

That means housewives are paying twice as much on each pound of meat, loaf of bread or bottle of milk as they paid before 1940.

We bring this up as a reminder of the importance of the state Constitution. It affects everyone in Illinois. It even has an influence on the extra pennies housewives must dish out when they go shopping for food.

For it was the Constitution which prevented the legislature from repealing the sales tax on food. The Constitution provides that if one commodity sold at retail is taxed, then all must be. No exceptions, even for food.

In 1942 an attempt was made to amend the Constitution. The attempt failed, despite the obvious fact that every housewife in the state would have been in favor of it if she had thoroughly understood it. Here's the way it was lost:

A total of 979,892 persons voted IN FAVOR of the amendment. Only 346,232 persons voted against it. That's right. The vote was almost three to one to change the Constitution—but it failed anyway.

You see, in order to change the Constitution, a majority of all votes cast at an election must favor the change. A total of 3,049,312 voted in the 1942 election for congressmen, state officers and the like, but almost 1,700,000 didn't vote at all on the food tax amendment. That was the same as voting "NO". Perhaps they didn't notice the proposition on the ballot, perhaps they didn't understand what it meant.

Anyway, the expressed wishes of an overwhelming majority of interested citizens were denied because of the silly arrangement Illinois has for amending its Constitution.

TO REMEDY this defect and give the voters a more honest shake, a "Gateway amendment" will be on a special blue ballot this fall.

Both political parties have endorsed it.

It provides an amendment shall pass if it gets the favorable vote of two-thirds of those voting on the proposition. Nine of the 14 amendments proposed since 1891 have received a two-thirds vote but they failed to pass because they didn't get a majority of all votes cast at the election.

It will take some real work to pass the Gateway amendment. It will need a majority of all votes cast at the election. If it was hard to get such a majority on such a proposition as taking the sales tax off food, consider how difficult it will be to get a majority on an intangible proposition for amending the Constitution!

To make the task easier, the ballot will be blue so as to draw attention of the voter. Members of both political parties are working for its success.

Sec. of State Edward J. Barrett has prepared a folder describing the "Gateway" and the argument in favor of it. The SUN-TIMES will supply them to business organizations, Clubs, societies or individuals who request them. Just address a letter or card to Editorial Page, Chicago Sun-Times, 212 W. Wacker, Chicago 6, Ill.

Using Your Bible

Lesson for October 15, 1950

THE BIBLE must be approached in three ways: with the head, with the heart and with the will. With the head for understanding, the heart for appreciation and reverence, and the will for obedience. That was the first question Philip asked the Ethiopian: Do you understand what you are reading? Not do you enjoy it, or do you believe it, but do you understand it? If not, then the reader can neither fully believe nor rightly enjoy it.

Dr. Foreman

The King James Version

THE BEST and simplest help in understanding the Bible is to read it in the language we speak. Now unfortunately it was not written in that tongue, but in Hebrew and Greek. We have to read it in translations. There are scores of translations in English alone.

The most widely sold of these is the one known by various names: the King James, or the Authorized, or the 1611, version. This was first published in 1611, being essentially a revision of the Bishop's Bible, a still earlier translation. The name "authorized" is misleading, however, for it never was authorized by church or state. It is a noble example of 17th century English and has had a wide influence wherever English-speaking people have gone.

The fact is, however, that people today do not speak 17th-century English any more, and very few of us even read it. Consequently the Bible, in this King James version, has a quaint Shakespearean sound, and the difficulty of the language is one of the main reasons why the average American today finds it hard to read.

Furthermore, the King James is inaccurate in many places. At the time it was published, the translators were working from Greek manuscripts which are now known not to be either the earliest or the best available. For these reasons, fresh translations of the Bible were greatly needed.

20th Century Translations

THESE modern-English translations of the Bible haven't changed the Book; they are simply helping the reader to get back to the ideas of the original apostles and prophets; they are putting the Bible again into the language people actually speak.

Some of the more important versions may be noted here. Practically all the churches of Protestant North America have been co-operating through the International Council of Religious Education, in producing what is called the "Revised Standard Version" of which the New Testament is already out, and very popular too. The whole Bible in this version is due to be off the press by September 1952. This is an excellent version for church or liturgical use, as it keeps close to the King James rhythm wherever it can; for the King James version, whatever its faults, has a rhythm about parts of it (notably the Psalms) which has never been surpassed.

Two other translations have been before the public, and have won many friends, for a score of years now: Moffat's, and the American Translation by Goodspeed, J.M.P. Smith and others. (This latter includes the Apocrypha, to which most Protestants are strangers).

At One Sitting

THE average reader, used to taking his Bible in snippets of a verse or two, or a chapter at most, at one time, will find that he can sit down with one of these modern translations and just read on and on, fascinated by the book he has discovered for the first time.

One of the "hardest" yet most important parts of the Bible, for instance, is the Epistles section of the New Testament. Every one of these epistles is a short letter, but how few persons ever read one straight through! Let the reader who is puzzled by the Epistles get a copy of "Letters to Young Churches," a translation by J.B. Phillips, and he will find that dark part of the New Testament simply opening up and shining. The work of translating will go on and on as long as language keeps changing; let us thank God for all those who in our time have been making the Word of God again an open book for all men.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By G. WILSON HARDER

Despite reports circulated by hopeful bureaucrats, the nation's small independent businessmen are almost equally divided on government control of prices and wages, rationing.

A nationwide poll just completed by the National Federation of Independent Business on this issue, and others, reveals 44% for; 50% against; 6% undecided.

These thousands and thousands of ballots, sent as usual directly to Congressmen, are causing many a solon who voted these powers to the President embarrassment.

The rapid, severe price jumps have hurt small businessmen even more than consumers.

But apparently there is a reluctance to jump from the frying pan into the fire.

It is felt if government had shown competence in dealing with defense, taxation, other grave matters, there would be more confidence in government intervention in the domestic economy.

Now, there seems to be one big question.

"What has the greater destructive power—the present inflationary trend which may be stopped by American common sense—or bureaucratic meddling which once started may never make sense, or never be stopped?" This attitude of small businessmen might be the most significant vote of no confidence yet registered.

On the same ballot independent businessmen voted almost unanimously for a law that will require co-operatives to pay a fair share of taxes.

©National Federation of Independent Business

The vote was 98% for; 1% against; 1% undecided. Businessmen have the support of the Treasury Department, anxious to plug loopholes which have been permitting a billion dollars of tax income to escape yearly.

This issue will take the spotlight in Congress soon. And as usual, the lobbyists opposing any action will shed copious tears over the "unwarranted attack on the farmer."

Actually, bona-fide farm co-operatives would be affected but little. Farmers themselves will be shocked at the coming disclosures which will show that abuse of the present regulations has been the highroad by which many big companies have escaped taxes.

Congressman Huber of Ohio created some discomfort the other day for Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Symington has just appointed a 12 member mobilization committee that will function when, and if, price controls, rationing is started.

The Congressman pointed out that labor, agriculture, industry and the public are represented on the board. But the distributive industry, employing 12.5 million, second only to manufacturing, is not represented. And the distributive industry will have to post prices, collect ration coupons, do most of the work.

But this obvious deficiency was apparently ignored.

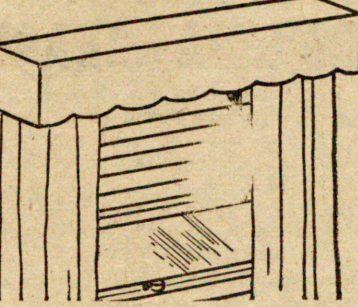

As one newspaperman remarked, "The trouble with Congressman Huber's comment is that it makes common sense, and in Washington, the keynote is 'billionaires for theories, but not one cent for practical experience'."

Use Masonite for Cornice

TO add a professional decorator's touch to windows in which draw draperies, side draperies, ruffled or tailored curtains are used, install made-at-home cornices. In their construction, use one-inch lumber and Masonite one-eighth inch hardboard.

Depending on the size of the windows and the desired depth of the cornice, cut the lumber into one long piece reaching the width of the window casing and two smaller pieces, one for each end. When screwed together, the lumber forms an inverted U covering the upper framework of the window.

To this framework nail or screw the hardboard which has been cut to the width of the window framework and, perhaps, given a simple design treatment on the lower or upper edge. Fixtures to hold the curtain rod are readily obtainable and should be fastened inside the end pieces of wood.

The cornice may be pleasingly decorated in harmony with the draperies, background, or floor covering. Use a prime coat of paint and two finishing coats. If desired, the cornice may be decorated with wallpaper or decalcomanias.

I Am Your

Correspondent

I am your newspaper correspondent.

Through my hands come many of the local items in your newspaper. I am a housewife, with a nose for news. ... I send in items about the 4H club, or what farmer's daughter has kept the biggest brood of kittens. Mine are the items, usually cheerful ones, dealing with people you know. Besides, sometimes I cover accidents in my area, returns on elections for my community.

Mine are the items the editor says are often the first stories the readers look for. Mine is, in large measure, a real public service.

Generally I am the neighborly one in a community, the housewife who arrives to help in times of distress ... the man who operates a country store and is a personal friend to each of his customers. Mine is a leisurely part of the publishing business, but nonetheless important to readers.

Like the grandmother of a family who keeps up with the comings and goings of all, like the friendly puppy who knows everyone in a community, I keep an interested eye on news items.

I a YOUR correspondent.

PICK YOUR CORN EARLY!

Dry It In Crib, with Behlen All-Steel
Ventilators and Tunnels

New, modern, fast way to dry corn. No more waiting for corn to dry in fields. Pick early, when mechanical pickers work best. Crib it, and let Behlen Ventilators and Tunnels dry corn faster than you ever dreamed possible.

GOODBYE TO CORN BORERS!

Agricultural colleges and experimental stations recommend picking early, to help control corn borers. You get your corn into cribs to dry, and shred or chop stalks and plow under before ground freezes, to kill the borers.

Behlen Tunnels not only ventilate, but are very handy for shelling. Just run sheller "drag" into tunnel, as at left. Pull out tunnel sections one by one. Corn drops onto conveyor belt. Saves hours of labor!

COME IN NOW!

Don't wait. We have Behlen All-Steel Ventilators and Corn Tunnels on hand now. But due to present industrial situation, we cannot promise we will get any more this fall. We strongly urge you to come in right away, while we are still able to supply you. Cost is less than for old-style wood ventilators.

Seeking to Curb Drunken Driving

In a united effort to halt a rapidly rising increase in fatal automobile accidents, Illinois has been asked to join the 47 other states in a nation-wide crackdown on speeding and drinking motor vehicle operators.

A letter has been sent to Governor Adlai E. Stevenson by J. Dewey Dorsett, general manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, in New York, officially transmitting a strongly worded resolution which was adopted by the executive committee of that organization appealing to all of the states, municipalities and counties in the country to enforce laws governing motor vehicle speeds and driving while under the influence of liquor.

Declaring that speeding and the use of alcoholic beverages are the primary causes of highway accidents, the resolution cites the National Safety Council as authority for the statement that deaths due to motor vehicle accidents rose 11 percent during the first four months of this year over the corresponding period in 1949. It further pointed out that two-thirds of all such fatalities occurred on rural highways, where excessive speeds are far easier than in crowded urban streets.

A copy of that resolution has been sent out to the governors of all of the states and the mayors of all cities above 10,000 population. Copies also will be sent to the governing bodies of all counties in the country. The gravity of the situation is indicated by the fact that this is the first time the Association of Casualty and Surety companies, which speaks for 81 insurance companies representing millions of policyholders, has even taken official action on such a public issue. The Association maintains one of the country's outstanding safety organizations.

Hogs May Eat Too Much Supplement

The old saying, "If a little pig will eat, he'll soon make a hog of himself," was never truer than when a good-tasting protein supplement is fed.

G. R. Carlisle, University of Illinois livestock extension specialist, reminds hog producers that pigs that have reached the weight of 75-100 pounds may eat more protein supplement than is necessary for most economical gains.

"This is most likely to happen if the supplement is palatable and the pigs have free access to it in a self feeder," he explains.

Pigs weighing over 125 pounds on pasture and getting shelled corn and a supplement consisting of two parts of soybeans meal and one part of tankage or meat scraps free choice, should eat about 700 pounds of corn with every 100 pounds of protein supplement.

If your pigs are eating more supplement than this, you can reduce the palatability of the supplement by mixing one part of alfalfa meal or ground alfalfa hay with two or three parts of the supplement. The addition of the alfalfa meal will lower the protein content of the supplement somewhat. Therefore, 125-pound pigs on pasture will need about 550 pounds of shelled corn for every 100 pounds of supplement containing alfalfa meal to get the necessary 12 to 13 percent of protein.

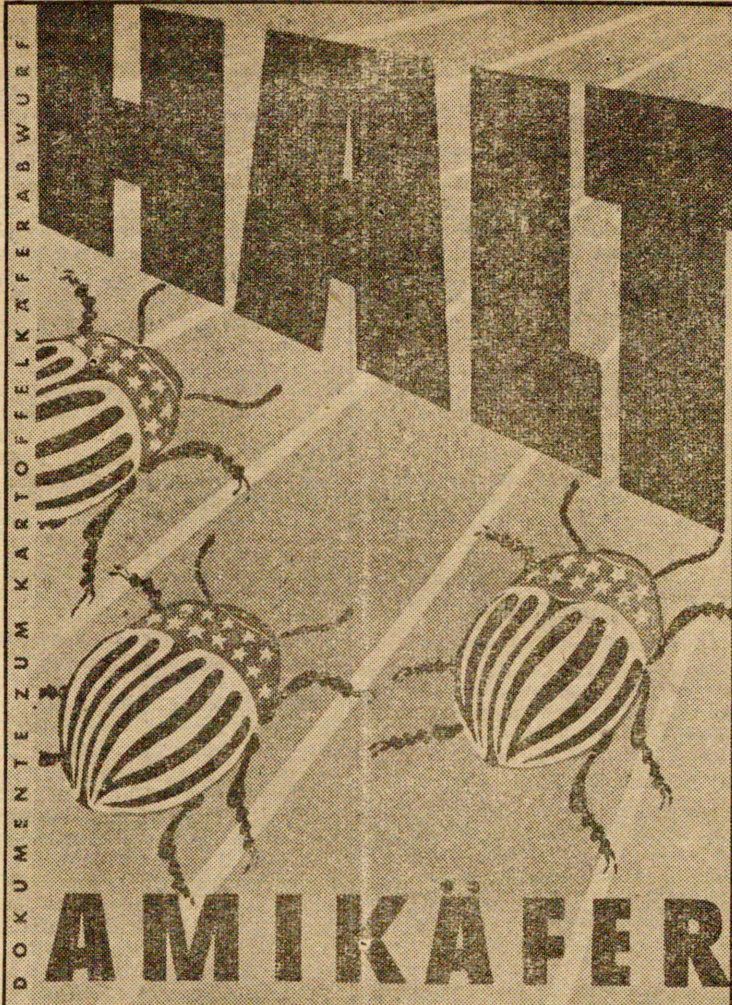

Cook County Calls For Cooperation of All Motorists

A relatively small percentage of motorists who are "either too stubborn or too indolent" to learn and practice the fundamentals of safe driving, are largely responsible for Cook County's rising rate of highway fatalities, in the opinion of President William N. Erickson of the County Board.

Erickson, who is also president of the Cook County Traffic Safety commission, pointed to the records showing a steadily decreasing toll of life for the 13 months up to January of this year. Since then, each month's total of dead has exceeded the corresponding month of 1949.

Last month, for example, 19 lives were lost in highway accidents in the county outside of Chicago. In August 1949 the total was 10.

Erickson said that the only possible way to save life on county highways was to win the cooperation of every motorist. In appealing for safe driving, he said he was speaking for the mayors or village presidents, the police chiefs and the police magistrates of all Cook county suburbs, who make up the membership of the Cook County Traffic Safety commission.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE BUGS—Following the policy of the "Big Lie," East German Government officials have distributed pamphlets declaring that American planes are dropping potato bugs to sabotage East German crops. The cover of the pamphlet (above) bears red, white, and blue potato bugs. Beneath the bugs is the slang word for Americans, "Ami," combined with "Kafer," the German word for potato bugs.

"We cannot shrug off this terrible toll of life as something beyond our control," he said. "We hear people say that there are many more cars on the road, as if that was the whole answer. But we must look deeper for the true cause."

"The records of our county safety commission reveal that approximately half of the fatal accidents are due to downright negligence on the part of some driver. Too many of them are caused by failure to obey fixed stop signs."

"These signs are unmistakable. They are standard eight-sided boards of sufficient size to be plainly seen. Furthermore, in most locations, a warning board reading 'stop ahead' is posted some distance from the stop line."

"There is little if anything that traffic engineering can do beyond what has been done in the matter of stop signs. That means that it is up to the drivers to learn the rules and practice them."

"By far the great majority of drivers do that. They realize that their own lives as well as the lives of others depend on their driving safely, and they are more than willing to do their share."

"But there seems to be a relatively small percentage of drivers who are either too stubborn or too indolent to learn and practice the fundamentals of safe driving. They are the ones who are causing the fatal accidents in most instances."

Cauliflower—Serve It Raw or Cooked

Serve cauliflower often in your October meals. Supplies are good and prices are low.

You can serve cauliflower either raw or cooked. Use the raw flower-lets as a relish, in tossed salads or as a garnish. Team cooked cauliflower with another plentiful—cheese. Just sprinkle grated cheese over it, or top with a cheese sauce.

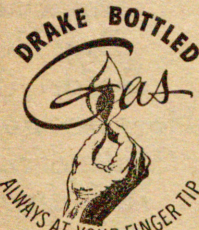

To get top quality cauliflower, choose a firm head that is white or creamy white in color, says Miss Geraldine Acker, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The flower clusters should be compact, and outside leaves fresh looking. Size is not necessarily an indication of quality.

To cook whole cauliflower, first soak it head down in cold salted water to draw out any insects. Then take off only the tough green leaves, leaving the more tender ones on the head. Drop the head into just enough lightly salted boiling water to cover it. Cook about 20 to 30 minutes. If you wish, you may separate the head into flowerlets and cook in salted boiling water for 8-15 minutes.

To make the cheese sauce, just add one half to one cup sliced or cubed processed cheese to a white sauce made with two tablespoons fat, two tablespoons flour, a cup of milk, and seasoning to taste. Be sure to melt the cheese slowly.

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

Here is our Prescription

FOR A HEALTHY COMMUNITY

Filling prescriptions is an important part of our business. But today, for a change, we are taking the liberty of writing one—after long and careful thought. Here it is:

PURCHASE Voluntary Health Insurance.
PRESERVE the American medical system.
PROTECT freedom all along the line.

Cavett Drugs
Tinley Park, Ill.

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

What's Wrong with FREEDOM?

Our business is selling merchandise—the best we can buy—at the most economical price to you. It's a good business, and we like it.

But being in business in America is more than skillful buying and selling. It's the exercise of a fundamental right—freedom to venture, freedom to plan, freedom to succeed by serving best.

All freedoms stand or fall together. That's why we take our stand today, with the doctors of America, for the Voluntary System. At home and abroad, it's worth defending!

You need it... I sell it

LET'S GET TOGETHER ON Voluntary Health Insurance

Let me show you how you can protect yourself and your family against the major costs of illness and accident. A sound Health Insurance policy will give you financial protection, peace of mind and new security.

You can select the kind of policy you want, at a price you can afford to pay. No compulsory payroll tax for inferior, Government-regulated medical care.

An investment in Voluntary Health Insurance is an investment in America.

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

... and we had to buck
a lot of competition

But it was healthy competition. We had to work hard and plan carefully. But it was work with a promise of reward.

We like to think that the friends we've made and the success we've had are typical examples of the opportunity America offers the man with an idea and a determination to build and manage his own business. We wouldn't trade places with a small businessman of any other Nation for anything.

We think we can do a better job running our own business than the Government could. We think the doctors and nurses and scientists can do a better job managing the medical care of the Nation than the Government could.

We believe that American freedom is worth working and fighting for at home and abroad.

ORLAND STATE BANK

Orland Park, Ill.

Who Runs America?

the Congress?

the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau
Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant
Hospital Association

American Legion
National Association of
Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of
Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods

American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

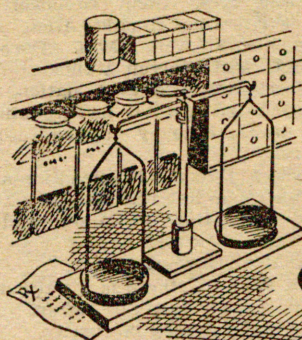

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

TAX FACTS

By George J. Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Publication of expensive limited editions of rare books is the latest field invaded with your tax dollars by your versatile federal government which now has its fingers—and nose—into just about every human endeavor from the cradle to the grave.

Now for $24 you can buy "The Nekese-Lipocz Bible" published by the United States Government Printing Office in a limited edition bound in black Morocco leather stamped in gold. This book is apparently not a Bible, but rather according to the announcement from the government, "the complete story of the Nekese-Lipocz Bible and several other manuscripts found to have the same style of illumination and format. It discusses the coloring and style of each of these manuscripts, and gives an account of their travels and a chronology of their ownership."

This undoubtedly is a beautiful and informative book, well worth the money to collectors.

The $24 question is, by what conceivable stretch of the imagination can there be any justification of this latest activity as a proper function of government? Even if the government sells enough copies to break even on cost, so that this book doesn't cost the taxpayers a penny, we still doubt whether very many American citizens would approve of their government going into the rare book business for the collector trade. And if the government loses money on the book, is this not a criminal waste and misuse of taxpayer money which is so sorely needed for defense purposes to say nothing of holding down the growing debt?

Of course, the federal government has been in the rare book business for some time. What books could be rarer than some of the government publications found by the Hoover Commission like "Mist-netting For Birds in Japan," "Interaction of Sex, Shape and Weight Genes in Watermelons," "Habits, Food and Economic Status of the Banded Pigeon," or "Recipes For Cooking Muskrat."

Did you know that rich men have more pajamas than poor men, and that pajamas are worn more in cold climates than in warm climates? These and other findings of the $100,000 survey by the Department of Agriculture will undoubtedly be printed in book form by the federal government too.

Are the 133 separate printing plants and 256 duplicating plants operated by the federal government at an annual cost to the taxpayers of about 25 million dollars. In addition to the Public Printer and Government Printing Office necessary?

Would the war effort be impaired if the 23,000 full time publicity and public relations payrollers who keep those 133 printing plants and 256 duplicating plants operating at full speed were fired?

Lard Keeps Longer With Shortening

You can improve the keeping quality of home rendered lard by adding hydrogenated vegetable shortening to it.

Research has shown that adding two pounds of vegetable shortening to 50 pounds of lard will double

My Neighbors

By BILL PAULSON

"Read a bureaucrat's directive and you'll wonder why they can write unadulterated nonsense and still get paid for it!"

the storage life of the lard you render.

Miss Geraldine Acker, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that the hydrogenated shortening is added to the lard after it has been rendered. Add it to the total amount of lard before pouring it into smaller containers. Be sure to stir until the lard and hydrogenated shortening are completely blended.

For containers, use five to 10 pound tinned metal pails or cans in first-class condition. If you use a considerable amount of fat for cooking, pour the fat into the larger sized container.

Fill the cans or pails as nearly to the top as possible. Air and light may cause the lard to become rancid. Seal the cans or pails with a tight cover. Then store in a cool, dark place.

J. J. C. Football Off To Good Start

By Bob Shoop
Joliet Junior college has started its first year of inter-scholastic football off with a bang, winning its first two games. In these two games the Wolves have run up a total of 65 points against zero for their opponents. On September 22, JJC defeated North Central B team by a score of 19 to 0, and on September 29, downed North Park Junior College by a score of 46 to 0.

The Wolves are now looking forward to a layoff with no game scheduled for this coming weekend.

On October 11, at 8:00 pm, Joliet met Wilson Junior College on the Richards Street field in a conference game. The Wilson team is annually among the top three teams in the Illinois Junior College Conference.

J. J. C. has shown a top defensive team as well as being pretty good on offense. According to coach Herm Walser, the next two weeks of practice will be spent almost wholly on offense, particularly blocking and deception in ball handling. Most of the players on the team have shown steady improvement since the beginning of the season.

The Joliet squad is made up of players from several of the local high schools. From Joliet Town ship come Jack Ostrem and Harry Bruggeman who have been a steady influence as tackles. Les Luther of New Lenox has been playing second string guard. Luther has had no previous experience. Tom Winterstein has been playing good ball at guard, and appears to be the best place kicker on the team.

Other linemen from J. T. are Rudy Skel, Jack Baker, Dominic Bucciero and Jim Smith.

John Takacs is another former J. T. star, and has been playing good ball at a half back position. Tom Streitz was slated to be regular half back but has missed the first two games because of injuries.

White's right for night, according to traffic visibility tests. The Chicago Motor Club finds that a pedestrian wearing black clothes can be seen by a driver from 95 to 135 feet away. Carrying a white handkerchief, the pedestrian can be seen at a distance of from 164 to 291 feet. A pedestrian wearing a large portion of white is visible at a distance of from 206 to 377 ft.

Who has the right of way—the pedestrian or the driver? The Chicago Motor Club points out that while the motorist approaching a crosswalk or making a turn should yield the right of way to pedestrians crossing on the proper signal, the pedestrian should yield right of way to motorists between intersections.

Washington's Farewell Address was first presented to the American public in the columns of the Philadelphia Daily Advertiser.

JUST as with any other type of craftsman's tools, the proper adjustment and careful operation of a corn picker is one of the most important things to keep in mind during corn-picking time. In some cases, the close watching of this operation can reduce losses enough to pay for harvesting the crop.

One of the greatest losses of grain on the farm is caused by careless operation of corn pickers. Mechanical picker studies conducted at several agricultural colleges show that picking losses range from two and a half to 13 per cent, depending on the type of picker, the kind of corn and the season of the year.

With a yield of 70 bushels per acre, a 10 per cent loss at $1.50 per bushel would amount to $10.50 loss per acre. That would more than pay for the harvesting operation.

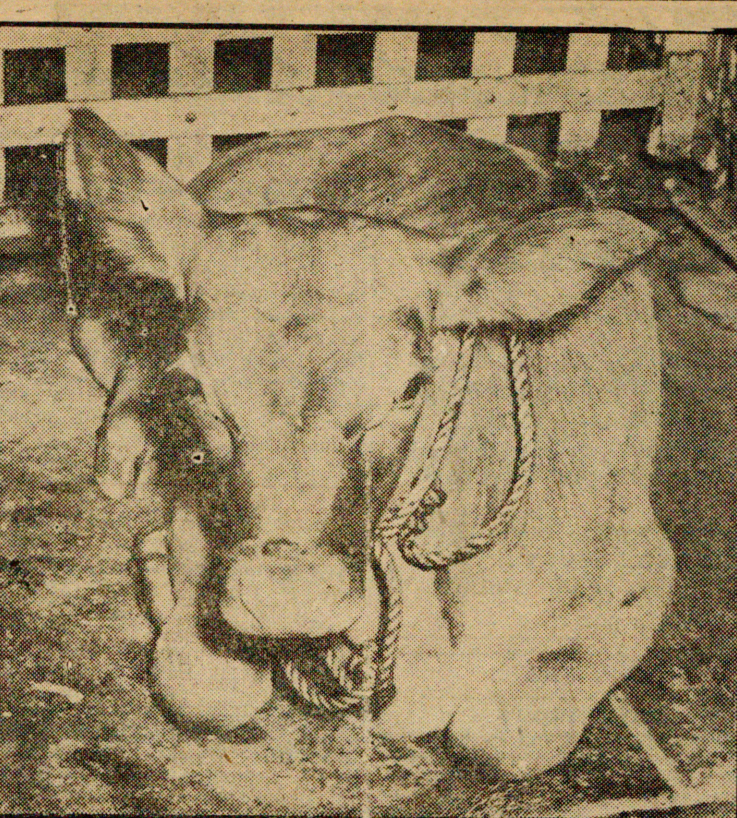

Dropped ears may be recovered by gleaning or by livestock. Shelling losses, though, are not easily recovered unless the field is hog-tight. Hogs will save some shelled corn if the weather is good.

Shelling losses can be reduced by careful adjustment of corn picker rolls. Another factor that will save picker losses is to keep the picker on the row. Ears are knocked off and lost when a picker gets a little off the row. Low ground speeds and careful driving should be the watchword of every operator.

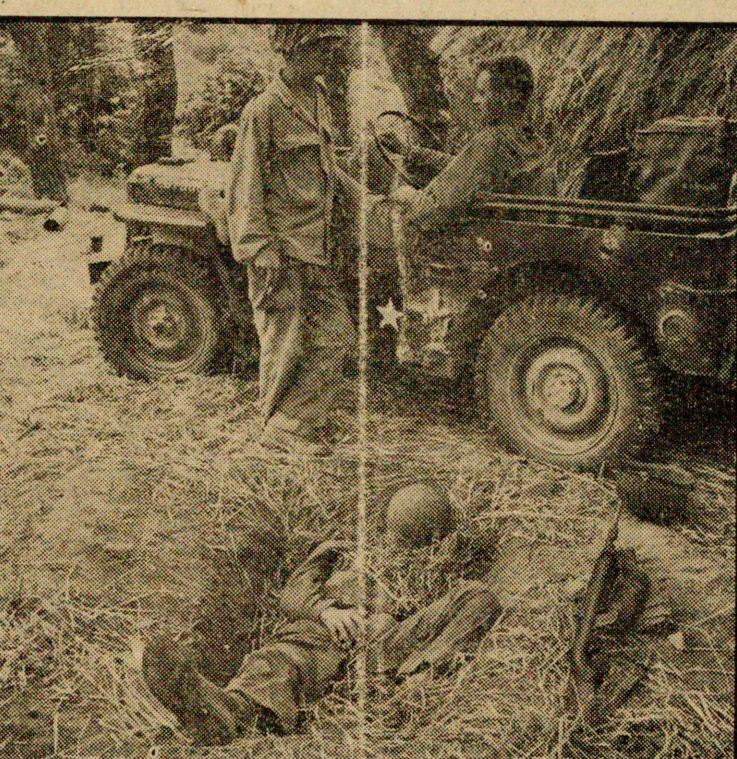

Corn picker elevators should be shut off when making turns or when picking on the contour. Otherwise corn will miss the wagon. Corn along the ends, across waterways and along ridges should be gleaned by hand in order to save as much grain as possible.

According to experimental studies, mounted pickers have a greater tendency to lose corn than do pull-type pickers. Lowest shelling losses were found with the single-row pull-type machine.

POLICE THROW BULL—A 220-pound bull calf was thrown in jail by police of Murphysboro, Ill., after being booked on charges of disturbing the peace and resisting an officer. Apprehended while munching on the courthouse lawn, the calf was released by the Police Magistrate, who declared himself fond of the animal.

WAR'S SNORES—Unmindful of his talkative buddies, an American G.I. sleeps peacefully in a straw-filled foxhole at an advanced battalion command post in South Korea. His helmet helps to drown out the words of Pfc. Everett Elliott of Cambridge, Md., at left, and Sgt. Glennis Binion of Ault, Ky.

To be absolutely positive your fried chicken is completely cooked, take the largest piece and cut into its thickest part. The meat should cut easily with no pink color showing.

Stains on a lace tablecloth can be removed easily with color remover. Dip it in the solution until the entire cloth is white or nearly white. Then recolor it with ecru all-purpose dye.

To keep egg yolks in the center when you want attractive hard cooked eggs, stir the eggs around in the water every once in a while as they cook.

The popularity of red shoes shows signs of holding over through winter. They're so gay and extravagant-looking. The worry is that they'll darken. To prevent this never happen if you give them the ol' shynola neutral and patch up scuffs with a little lipstick. They'll stay cherry bright.

The next time you're baking tomatoes, stuffed green peppers, apples or onions, place them in a muffin pan to bake. You'll find they keep their shape much better.

Chiffon and cream pies are especially yummy in a gingersnap crust: mix one cup of finely crumbled gingersnaps with one-quarter cup melted vitaminized margarine. Press firmly on bottom and sides of an eight-inch pie pan and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 10 minutes. Cool before adding filling.

Stainless steel pans can be brightened by filling with a mild vinegar solution and allowing to simmer on the stove.

To put fresh elastic in a garment easily and quickly, pin one end of your new elastic to the worn out piece. As you pull the old one out, the new elastic will slide right in place.
